Destination Unknown . . .

When we took our first steps into Washington, either as freshmen preparing to face the challenge of high school or as new students burdened with the anxiety of meeting new people, we all felt somewhat lost and confused. But soon our fears washed away, bringing the exciting feeling of becoming a Husky. Despite the leaks and cracks of its aged buildings, Washington became a second home to many of us where we could all feel comfortable. Whether we found our niche in athletics, student government, clubs, or just with our friends, we all shared the pride of belonging to Washington. This pride increased with each passing year and is meaningul to all of us in one way or another. Our memories, both good and bad, are those which will stay with us forever. As we prepare to leave this home we also prepare to enter, yet again, a new place of worries and uncertainty, but one in which we will soon find our way. The theme of this year's Washingtonian reflects upon the endless prospects of our futures, and the hope that above all, we will be happy.

What a lightweight!

Bottoms up!

Hmm, verry interesting

Happiness is . . . a warm puppy? Well, maybe sometimes, but it is also the feeling we all get from being a Husky. Granted, everyone has their bad days when they'd rather do anything than come to school and take that dreaded biology test they know they'll fail, or give that English report in front of so many people. However, such misery was easily overcome when we experienced the much more common feeling of happiness — cheering a winning team, finally understanding that math problem, winning a match, or meeting a new friend. Such happiness was seen and heard constantly this year with sparkling smiles, bellowing cheers, and ecstatic shrieks of joy.

Unity was an important factor at Washington. Never was this more evident than at sports events or at rallies when students came out to cheer, offer support, and egg their team on. Our athletes responded by providing their loyal fans with exciting matches and winning records. This feeling was also carried into the classrooms and the hallways. Students were more than willing to stop here and there to talk to old friends and meet new ones while teachers, once again, devoted their extra time to help out. Everyone's willingness to cooperate and to cheer on the school brought the Huskies together.

Joanne — now a proud Husky.

Wow, what an awesome play!

Everything's A-okay.

The gang's all here.

"Look, Ma. No cavaties!"

"Hey, let go. I'm not that kind of girl!

"Did somebody call my name?"

Oooh — I — th... serious look

Truely high society girls

Style: mohawks, flat-tops, afros, or spikes — which hair style do you like? Coiffeurs from the vanguard to the conservative weren't the only styles on campus. This year, we were reacquainted with paisly, which joined the realm of fashion here along with flowery prints, varsity jackets, rolled up pants, tee-shirts and blue jeans. These, however were only fads. Whatever our students did, they put their own stamp on it. Originality, creativity, and sophistication were styles of the Husky!

"OK, Teacher, I guess I'll do the w[illegible]."

Only half an hour left, guys.

Knowledge, the accumulation of information for the benefit of the people. To gain it is not always an easy task. Nagging parents, persistant teachers, thick textbooks, and late nights had to be tolerated by each student. However terrible it may seem at times, the students here realize that learning is a primary goal at Washington, and we are reminded of this fact whenever we have troubles and need the help of a teacher or other faculty member. The time they are willing to spend with us makes us realize the importance of school and knowledge.

"I learn better this way, honest!"

"Hey, I don't know what she wants from me."

Carmen likes nothing better than making up homework in the cafeteria.

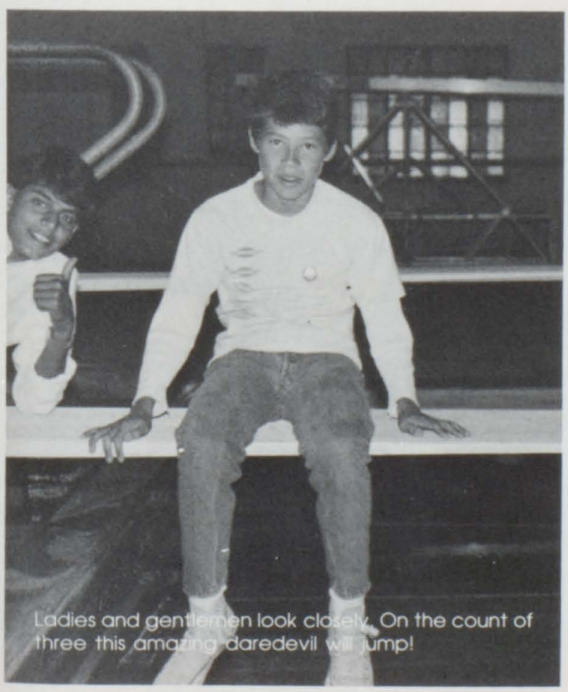
"Care to join us in a little existential talk?"

Individuality can often times be destructive to a group's purpose, but what each person adds makes for a better whole. At Washington, the environment is perfect for students to contribute their personalities to the school's character. Athletes, funny people, and serious students all blend together to make Washington what it is.



Ladies and gentlemen look closely. On the count of three this amazing daredevil will jump!

"Patty cake? Christy, what the heck is patty cake?!"

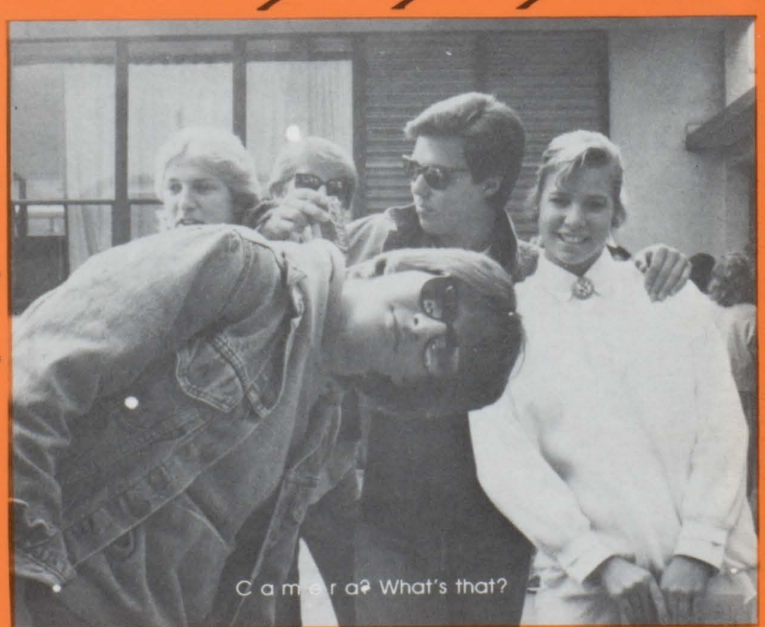
Entertaining the students during school hours was a main concern this year. As a result, teachers and the faculty put in a little extra effort. Science teachers found it useful to dernonstrate lessons through the use of bowling balls, bike tires, or even soup cans. The bizarre core of English teachers encouraged the abstract, the sublime, and the altogether different ideas swimming around in students' heads. Students looked forward to visiting the outrageously decorated rooms they had helped to create. Lunch time offered music to our ears, rallies, class competition and intramural sports.

"Oh look, more tourists to take our picture!"

"I wish Mommy were here to clean out my locker."

MIDGE, the happy DJ.

I'm sorry, were you guys saying something?



Camera? What's that?

Spirit is the fuel that keeps a school going. Nothing during the year can be done efficiently if the student body isn't behind it all the way. From the moment the year starts, efforts are made to help the new students fit in and to make the old ones feel more at home. Spirit isn't just a simple word to describe a ghost, a drink, or a feeling. It's an idea harbored by each student. It's the pride in the school, the enthusiasm behind the effort, and the happiness that results when the goal is reached. This year happiness, unity, style, knowledge, and individuality, and entertainment were some of the forces that went into building indelible spirit of the HUSKIES.

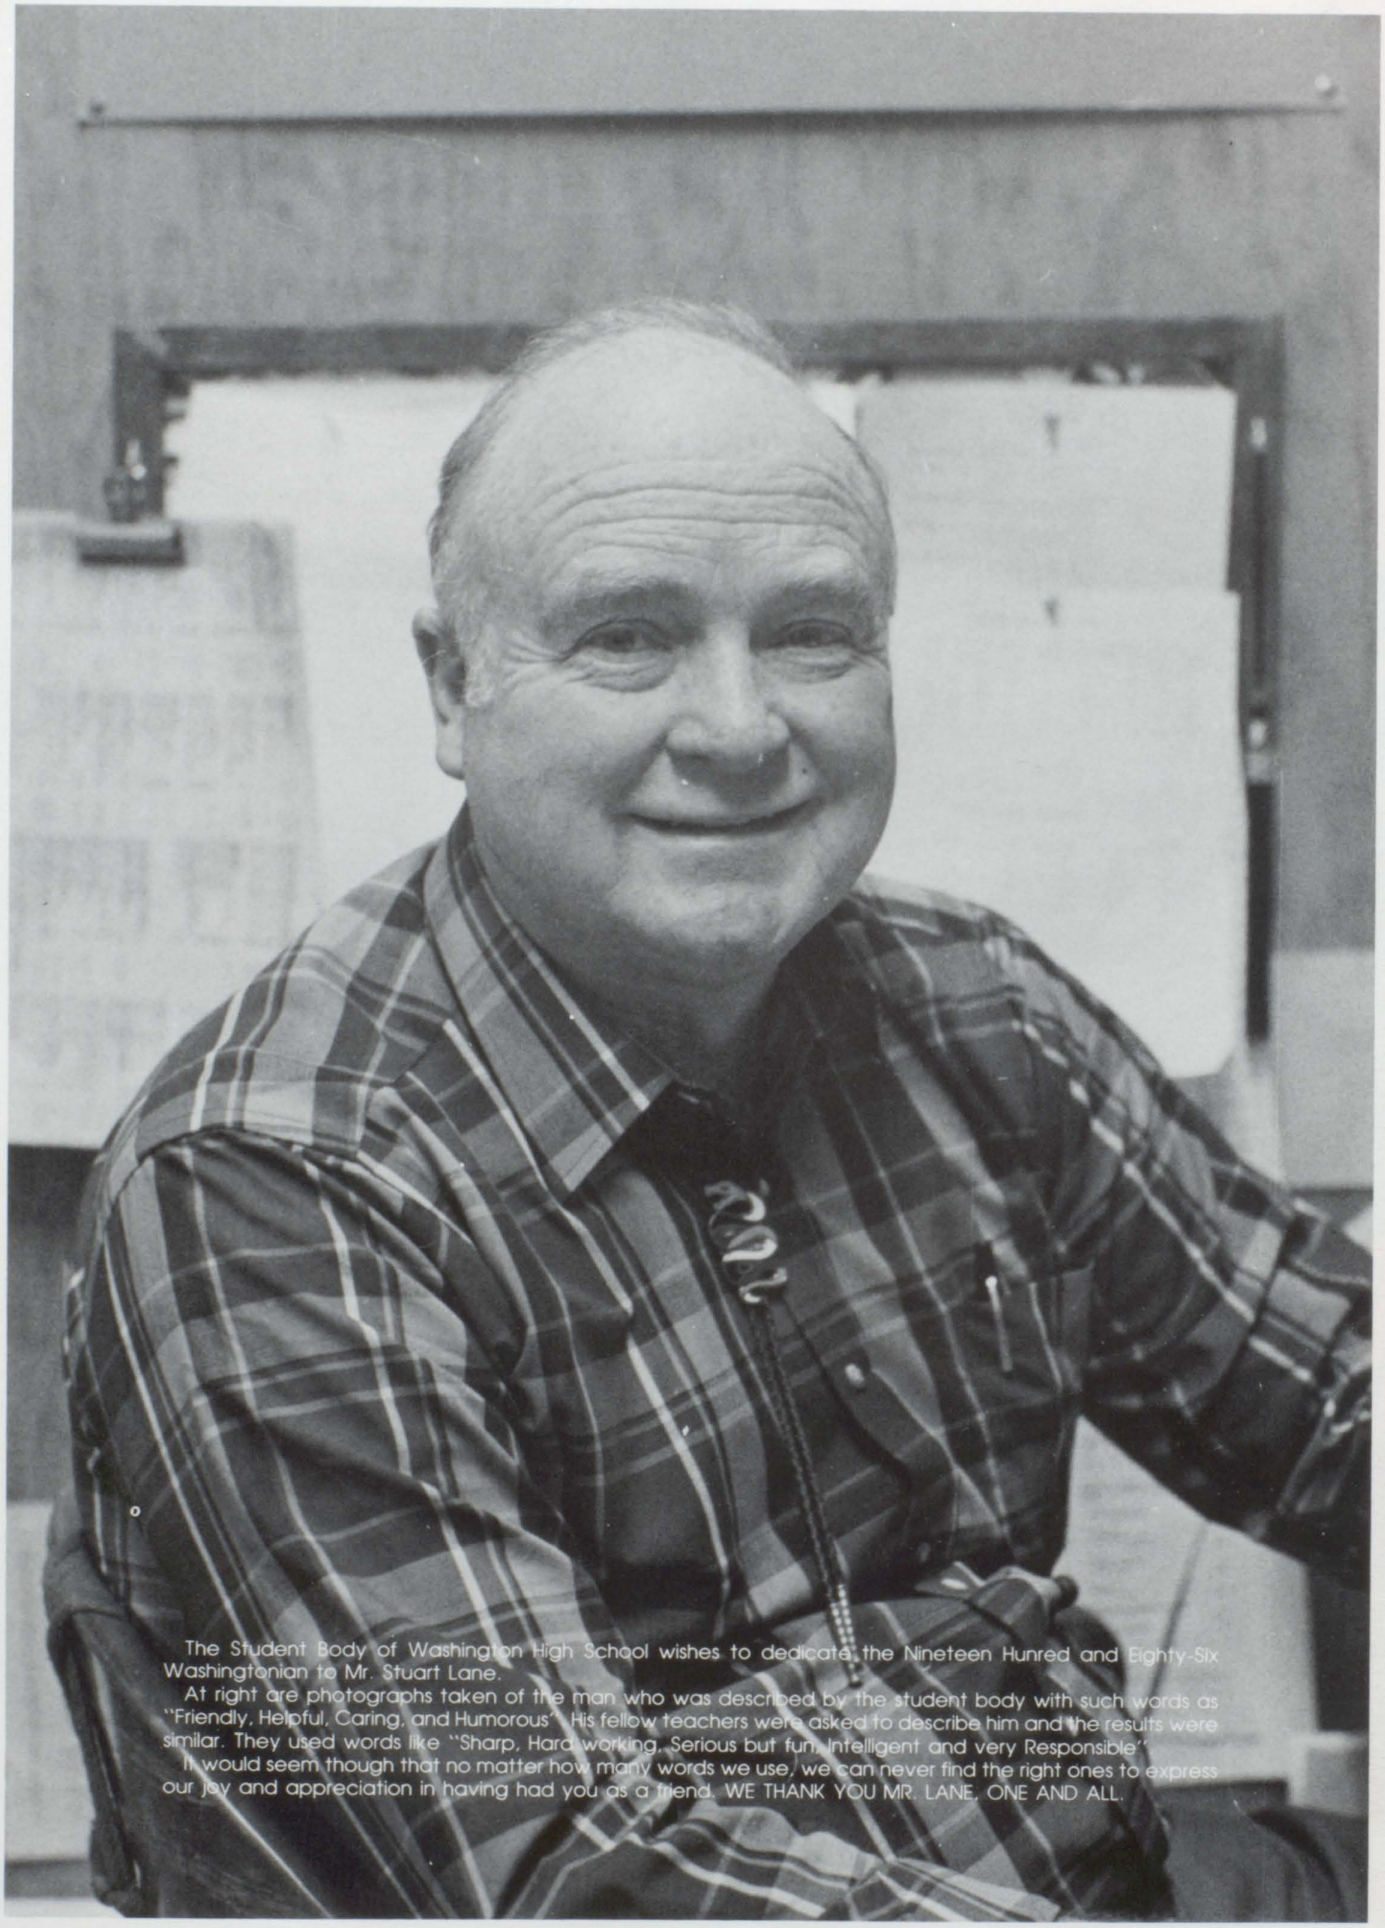
DEDICATION



The Student Body of Washington High School wishes to dedicate the Nineteen Hunred and Eighty-Six Washingtonian to Mr. Stuart Lane.

At right are photographs taken of the man who was described by the student body with such words as "Friendly, Helpful, Caring, and Humorous". His fellow teachers were asked to describe him and the results were similar. They used words like "Sharp, Hard working, Serious but fun, Intelligent and very Responsible".

It would seem though that no matter how many words we use, we can never find the right ones to express our joy and appreciation in having had you as a friend. WE THANK YOU MR. LANE, ONE AND ALL.

ADMINISTRATION

PRINCIPAL: DARYL TALKEN

The never ending role of administrator can be quite a demanding task. Here at W.H.S., we are lucky to have five administrators to teach us all about the wonderful world of learning. They are the people that teach us all about referrals, calling parents, and best of all how to spend our Saturday mornings. This year the administration staff has been divided into sections according to their tasks.

Mr. Bray provides services on counseling and instruction, while Mrs. Smith provides services on curriculum and instruction. Mr. Rabeneau attends to students whose last names begin A-L, just as Mr. Snyder attends to students whose last names begin M-Z. Mr. Talken, on the other hand, serves as our principal. Let's thank these hard-working individuals for their guidance and friendliness.

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY . . . IS A BUMMER

"So you think the South won the War."

"Hi kids! Ed Barbero here."

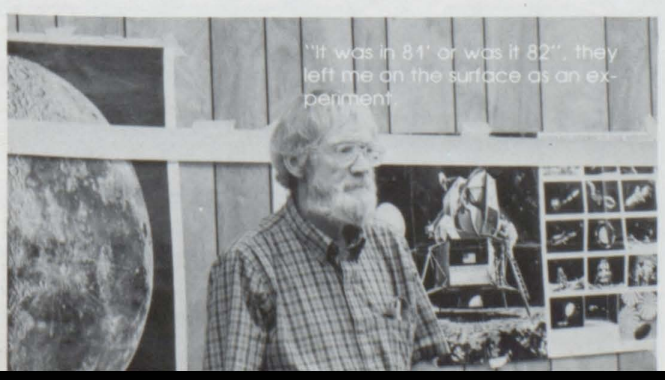
"There are more than seventy classes you could take But no, you've got to take French."

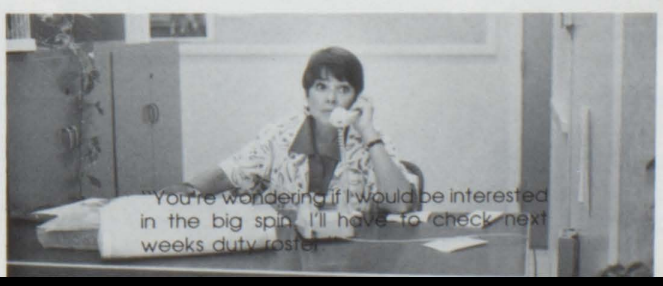
"I don't care if it is a family pet, I said, "Get it out of here."

"Even with a camera, my hands are quicker than the eye."

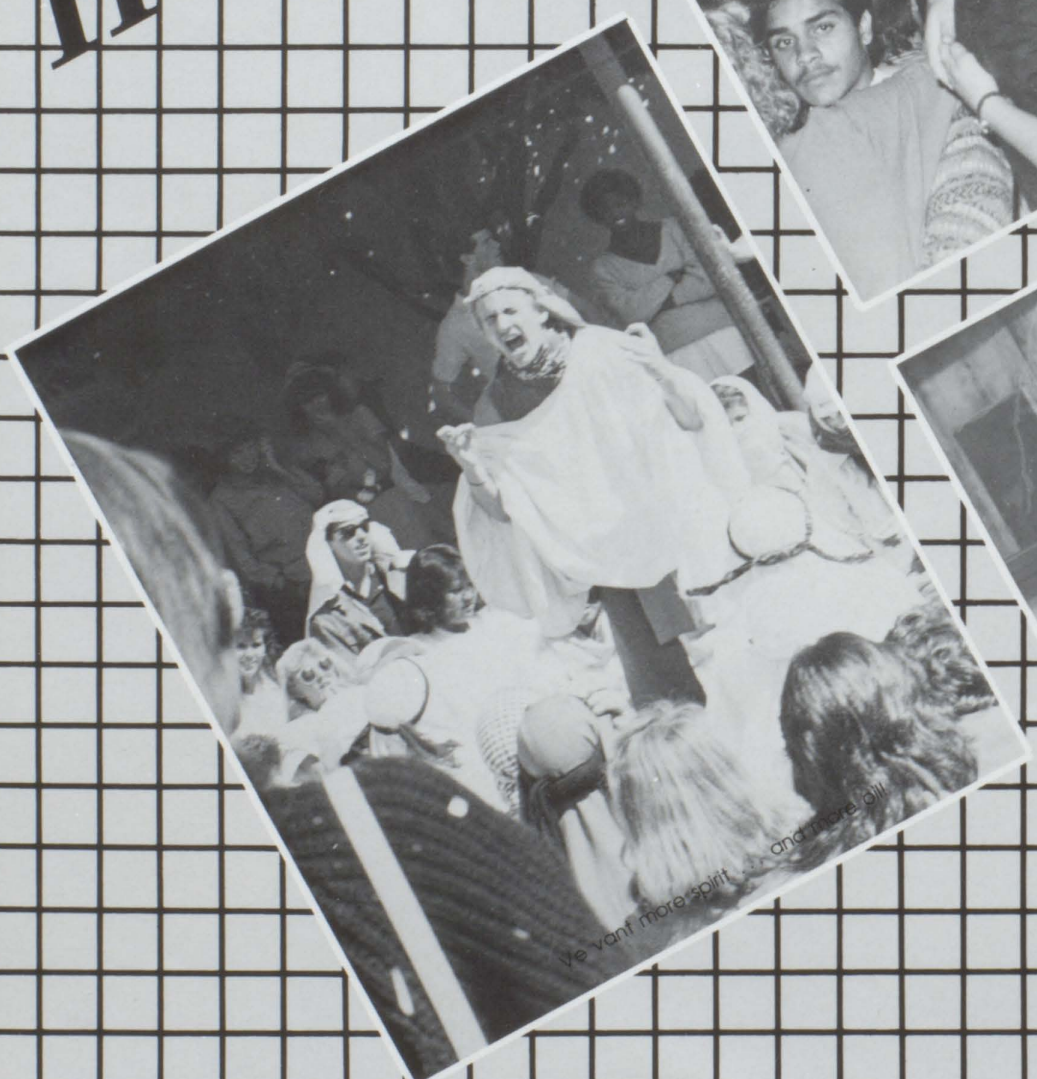
"So help me, it settled right there in that corn field. It gave off a funny sound, and these three little . . . "

"With two good arms, I can whip anyone. Right now, looks will have to do."





HUSKY ACTIVITIES



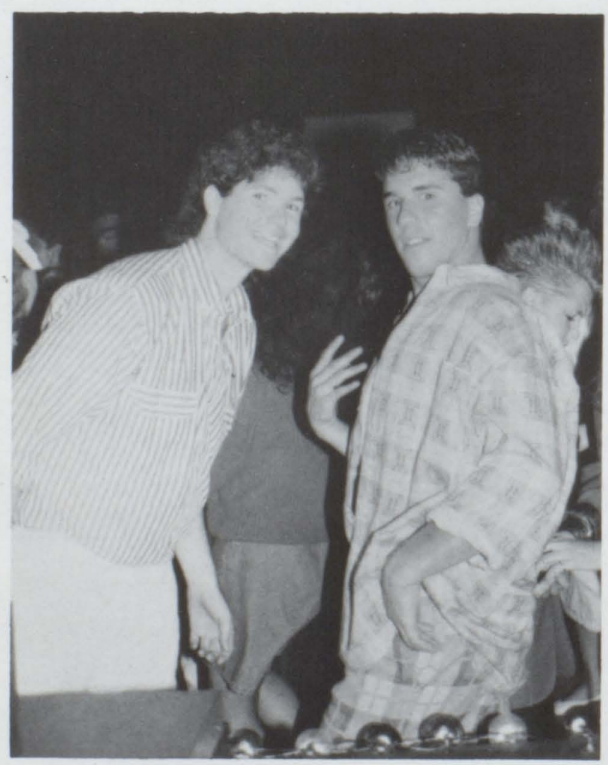
A CHANGE OF PACE

ALOHA DANCE

"Say cheese."

Excitement filled the air as old and new huskies shared the dance floor. Old friends were reunited after the long summer while new ones were made — a good start to a promising year.

"Look mom! We used crest and we're proud of it."



"Hey George, you're definitely Hollywood material."

"Wanted: Another male. Has anyone seen J.D.?"

THE GOVERNMENT MEETS THE PUBLIC

Cries of anarchy, socialism, communism, military juntas, and social unrest were rudely silenced with the pounding of the gavel — Comrade Dinh, affectionately called Frauline Gabby, had appeared to wreak havoc. Despotic maledictions echoed from her lips as the awe struck members of her cabinet cringed in nervous anxiety. "Meeting called to order!" she bellowed as her head bodyguard, Herr Mangini, stood by, clad in the official party uniform: Pierre Cardin sweats. The little general, shorter by far than her party cronies, had come to put her iron grip on the Washington High Commune. Facing the fearless leader, the panic stricken council awaited her party address. A SHOCK, A THUNDERING CONTRADICTION, however, issued forth. Murderous applause pervaded the room as the plan was initiated. "We are going to make everyone feel like a Husky and the Commune will thrive on spirit and participation!!"

JUNIORS JAMES BOND

If you thought you saw "Jaws" lurking around the campus, then it was probably the Juniors' day for Spirit Week. Their skit reflected the past summer's box office smash "A View to a Kill".

On the night before the big Washington-Irvington game, Hank, the secret of Washington's victory, was abducted. The Student Council held an emergency meeting and immediately agreed to call in James Bond, Jr., 0087. Despite, or maybe because of, the bungling of his lovely new assistant, Bond was able to locate where Hank was being held: Gilligan's Island. After staging a swift commando raid, Hank was freed. And Bond? Well . . .

The Juniors' action packed performance earned them a tie for second place. And their spirit lasted the whole week as people dressed up for fun days as Camp Day, Designer sheets Day, Gladbag Day, and Army Day.

The adventure begins . . .

SMASHING SOPHOMORES

Once upon a time...

You better watch out, you better not pout, you better not cry, I'm telling you why, the evil Viking is coming to town. No, no, that isn't right. Unless you're talking about the Sophomores' skit.

It seems that once upon a time, on the outskirts of Fremont, there lived an evil Viking. And one dreary morning, the Viking woke up and decided to wreck all the schools in town. So off he went. One by one, the schools fell. Nobody could stop the Viking, not even the mighty Mission warriors. Then finally, the Viking came upon Washington, and at its gates stood Hank. As the Viking drew closer, Hank rushed out and attacked him. And after a fierce battle, the Viking was driven off and Washington was saved!

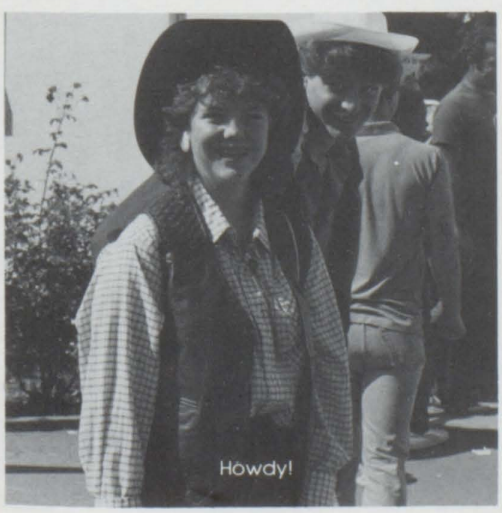
The Sophomores' superb showmanship earned them a tie for second place. The other days that were selected included Beach Day, Western Day, Bum/Bag lady Day, and Love and Peace Day.

Bumming around.

The showdown.

Clash with the Viking.

Where's the beach!?



Howdy!

Celebration time.

FEARLESS FRESHMEN

These are the voyages of the Freshmen Federation. Their mission, to seek out and explore, to boldly go where no class has gone before.

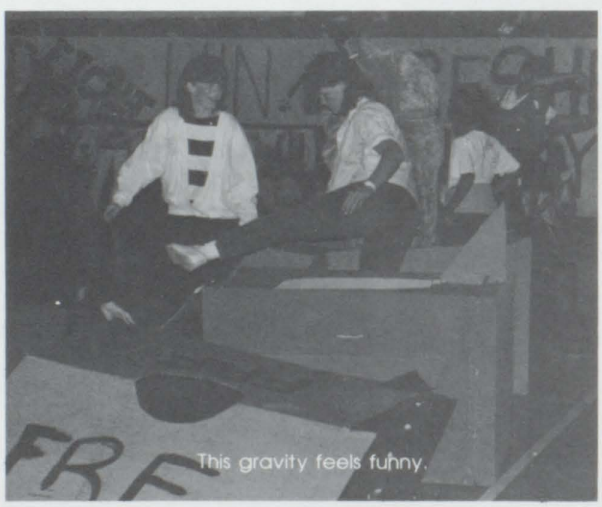
Do these lines sound familiar? Well, they should, those were the lines that launched the Freshmen skit. In response to an oncoming fleet of Irvington invaders, the Freshmen Federation (FRF) hastily sent out a starcruiser to the outlying planets of Sophmortas, Juniper, and Seniorities. Its mission, to establish contact and unite their respective forces into one against the Irvington threat. Braving meteor showers and hostile aliens, the FRF succeeded at their mission. And the next solar day, on the field of football, the Irvington forces were repelled!

The Freshmen's fine performance also earned them a tie for second place. Their selection of days, which included Hawaiian Day, Safari Day, Athletic Day, and the traditional Orange and Black Day, showed that while they were new at this, they did know what was going on. Good job, Freshmen!

Live! from the Husky Press . . .

We have lift off.

A meteor shower!



This gravity feels funny.

Greetings, earthling.

Ready for the battle.

Yeah! We won!

1ST PLACE

SENSATIONAL SENIORS

Cool Seniors.

You may have heard of Band-Aid, Live-Aid, and maybe even Kool-Aid, but if you missed Spirit-Aid, then you missed it all.

Spirit-Aid was sponsored by the Senior Class in an attempt to stop the ever growing threat of Irving-tonitis. MCed by Peewee Herman, the show featured guest performances by the Freshmen, the Sophomores, and the Juniors. While these opening acts were good, they were dwarfed by the awesome sound quality of the Seniors' live Rock Band finale. This extravaganza raised enough spirit to put an end to Irving-tonitis forever.

For their imagination and creativity, the Seniors were awarded the trophy for first place. They picked a number of unique and fun days for their last Spirit Week and these included Saharra Day, Injury Day, Peace and Freedom Day, Concert Day, and to round it off, the traditional Orange and Black Day. Great job, Seniors!

What happened to you?!

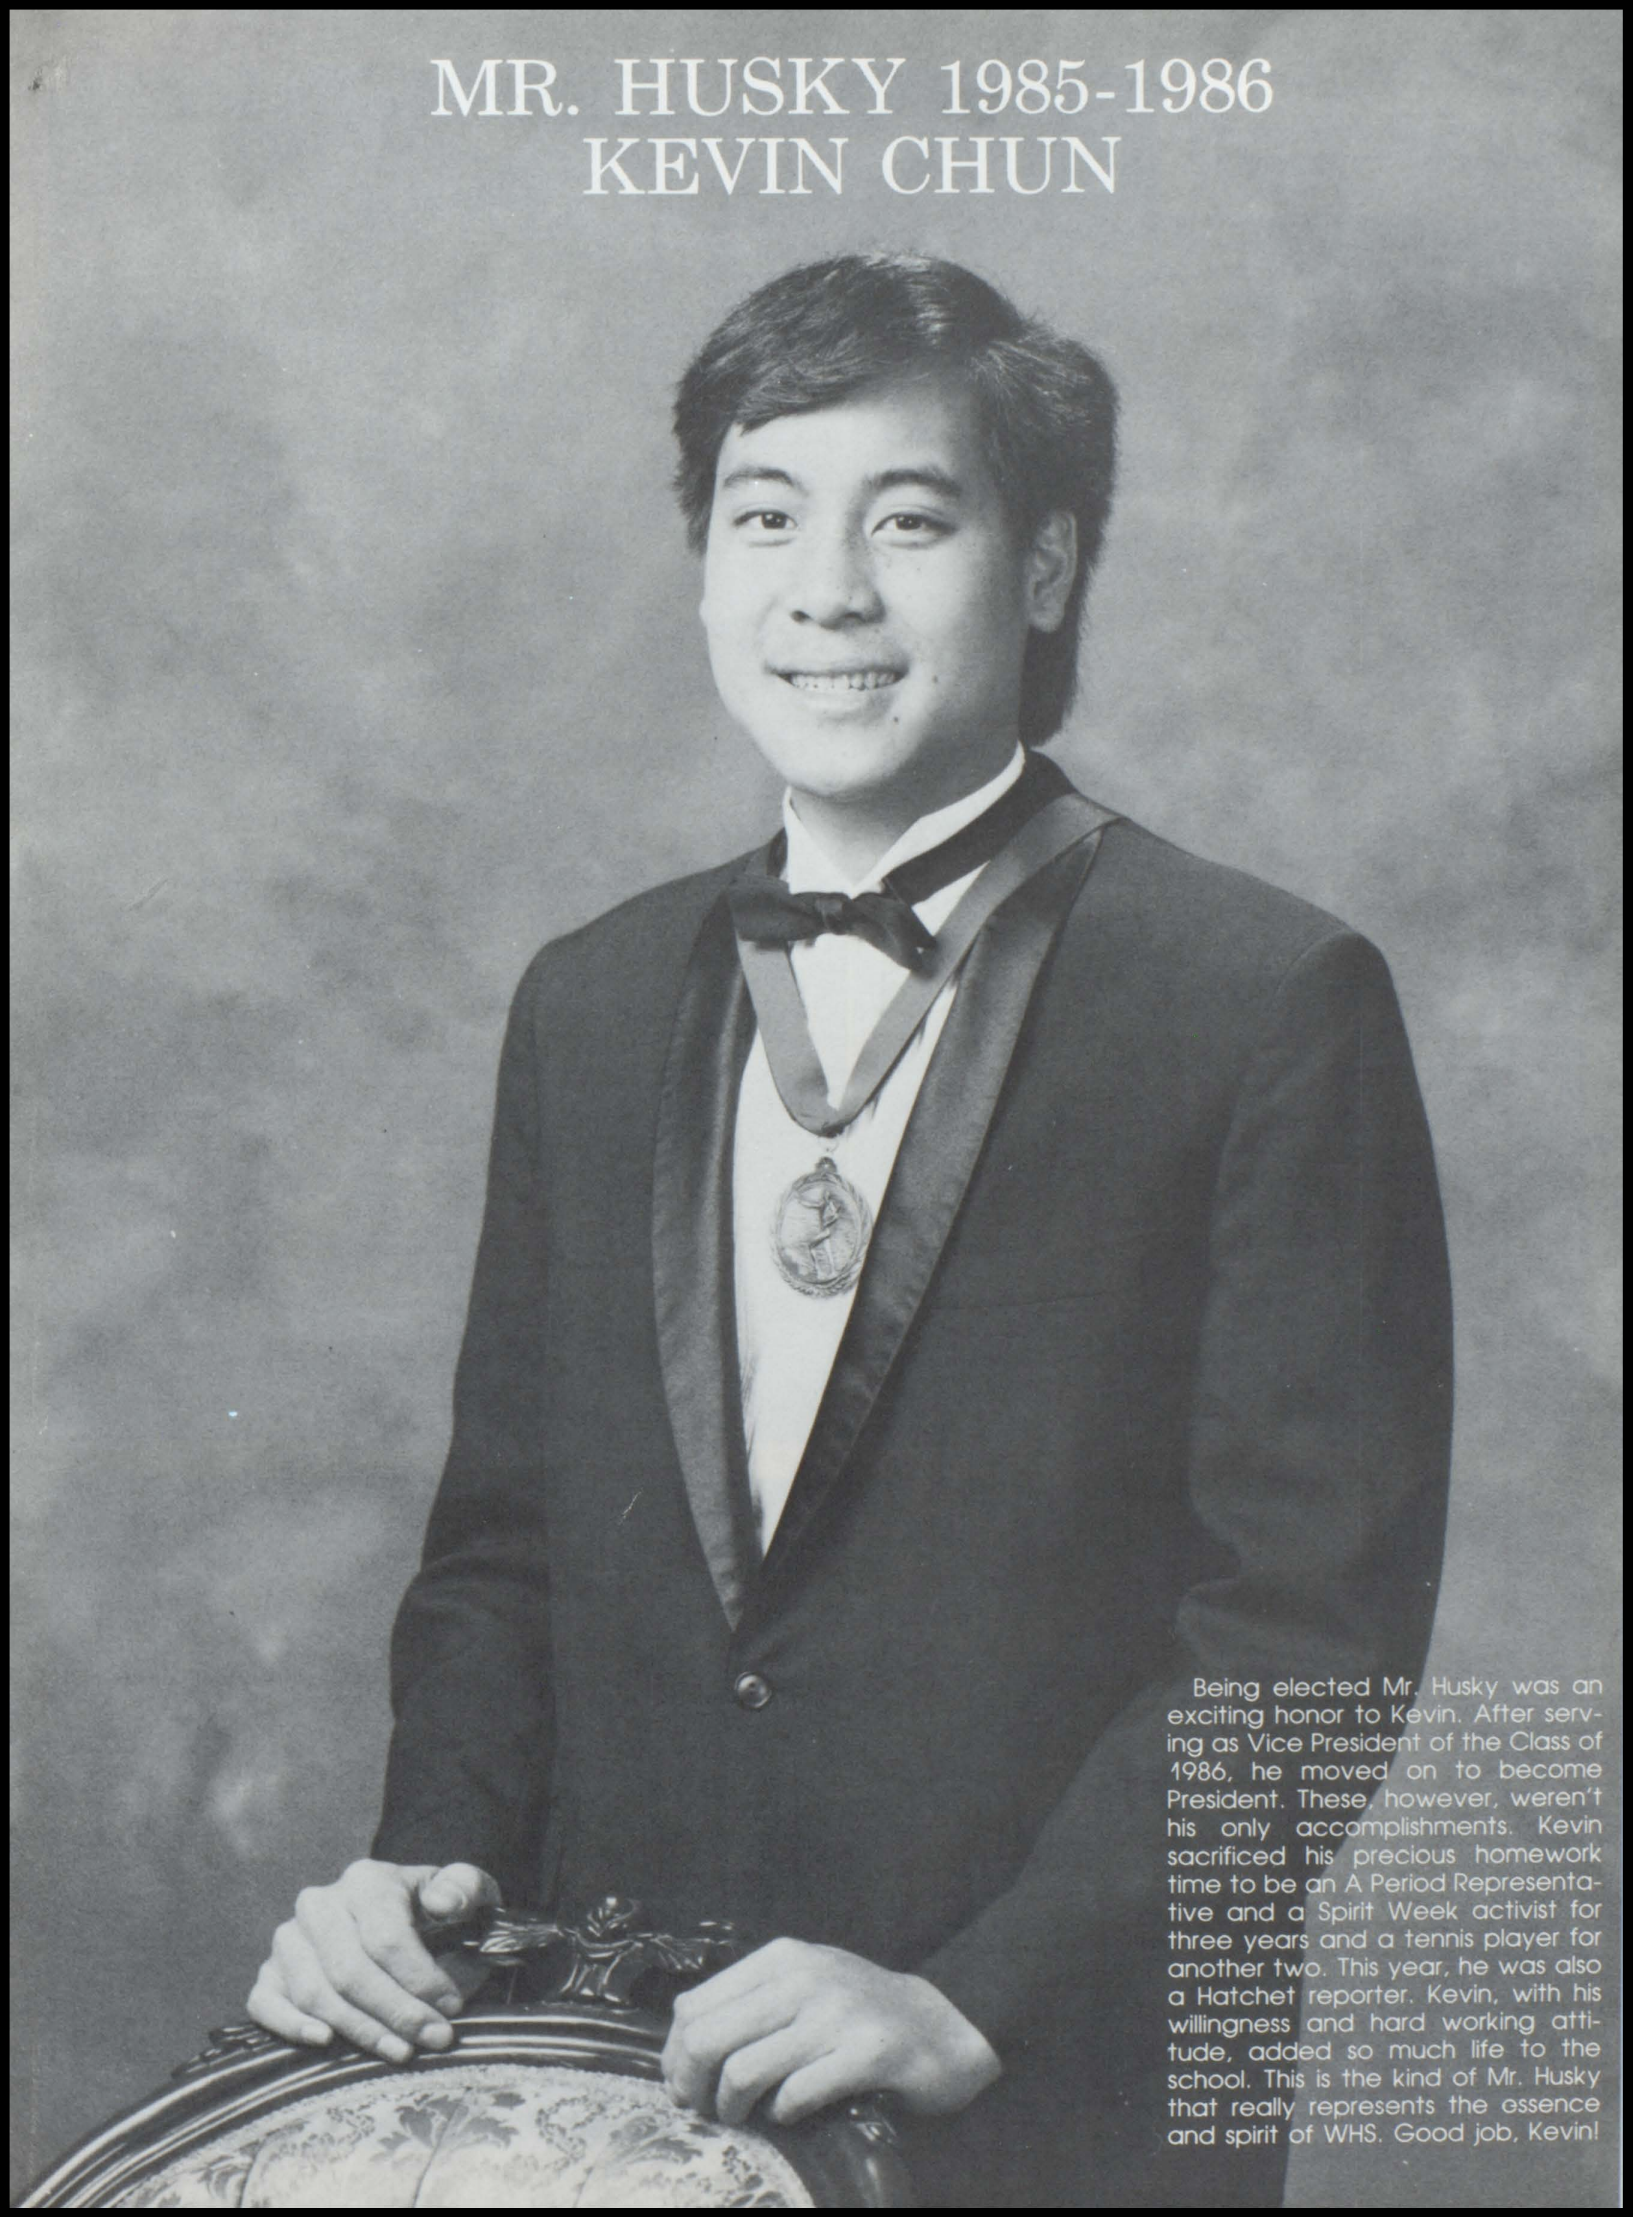
MR. HUSKY 1985-1986
KEVIN CHUN



Being elected Mr. Husky was an exciting honor to Kevin. After serving as Vice President of the Class of 1986, he moved on to become President. These, however, weren't his only accomplishments. Kevin sacrificed his precious homework time to be an A Period Representative and a Spirit Week activist for three years and a tennis player for another two. This year, he was also a Hatchet reporter. Kevin, with his willingness and hard working attitude, added so much life to the school. This is the kind of Mr. Husky that really represents the essence and spirit of WHS. Good job, Kevin!

The 1985-86 Homecoming game was held the Saturday immediately after Spirit Week. This year the Huskies played against the Irvington Vikings. The score read 7-0 in favor of the Huskies just before halftime. The halftime festivalties began as the soon to be crowned royal queen and princesses were chaufferred onto the field in cars courtesy of Ash Studios. Lisa Dinh was crowned the new queen by last year's queen, Kelly Stange. The Seniors were also announced the first place winners of Spirit Week, and Kevin Chun, the senior president accepted the trophy. Afterwards, the Huskies returned to the field and swept the Vikings 27-6. Yea, Huskies!

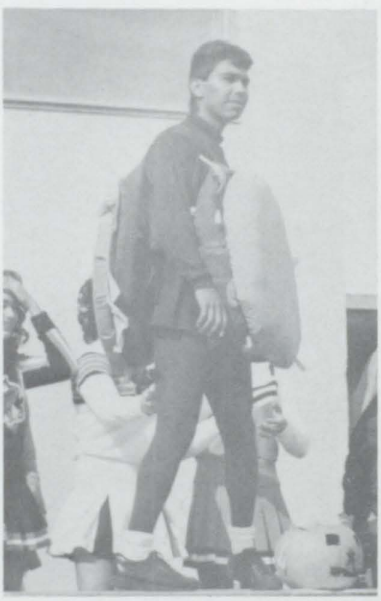
LISA DINH

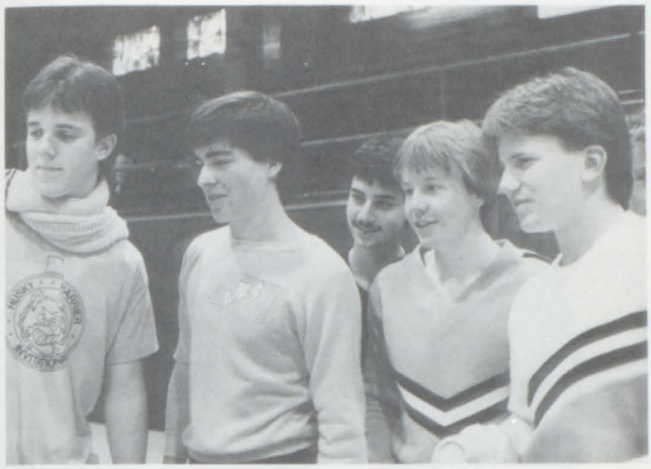
Although each Homecoming princess has contributed much to our school, Lisa's contributions have stood out. She has been a member of such clubs as CSF, Interact, and International Club all four years and, in her Junior year, she was the International Club's treasurer. Adding to that, Lisa has been a student council member since she was a sophomore. Before becoming our ASB President, she was PTSA Rep and ASB Secretary. Lisa also found the time to be an athlete: a tennis player and a hulking powder puffer.

Congratulations, Lisa, and thank you for all your time and effort.

TRICK OR TREAT



POWDER PUFF RALLY



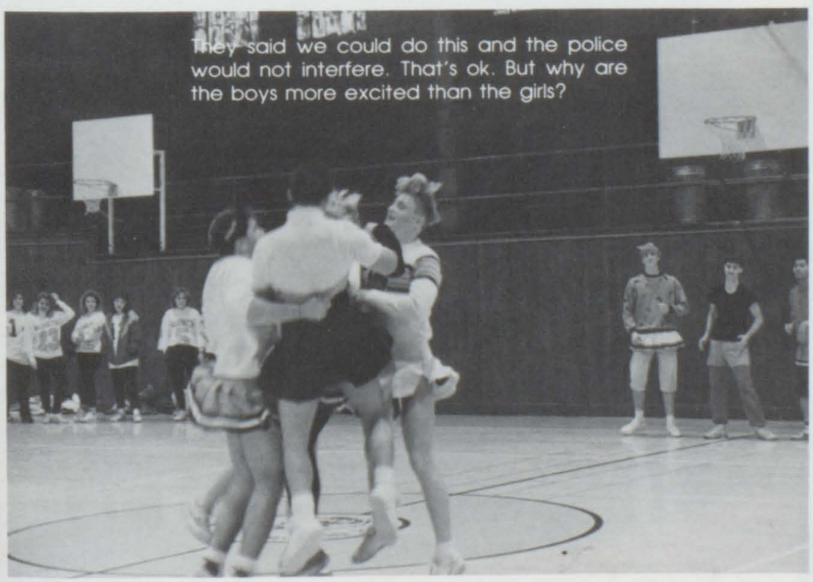
I don't think we will look like she does when we do it.

If you think this act is good, catch the one in the balcony.

What do you mean? You're the one who bought the dog.

We yelled and cheered, and paraded for all to see. You'll find the importance of this page on one hundred fifty-two and one hundred fifty-three.

She just took the mike. Let her go. Maybe something will come up.



They said we could do this and the police would not interfere. That's ok. But why are the boys more excited than the girls?

And the first thing I knew, the whole neighborhood was full of dogs. I'm thristy. Are you?

CHRISTMAS

This year, Tragos Comos sponsored the International Winter Ball. On the night of December 20th, couples turned out to dance, laugh, and have a good time before the much awaited break. Music was provided by DMST.

DANCE

You may have been just a tad bored if you got to the Valentines Dance on time. The cheers and hollars from the north gym may have made you wonder if you should have gone to the basketball game against Logan after all. But once the game was over, and the crowds came pouring in, the ASB sponsored Valentines dance was the place to be. Our exciting victory over Logan carried into the dance, bringing smiles and fun to all throughout the night.

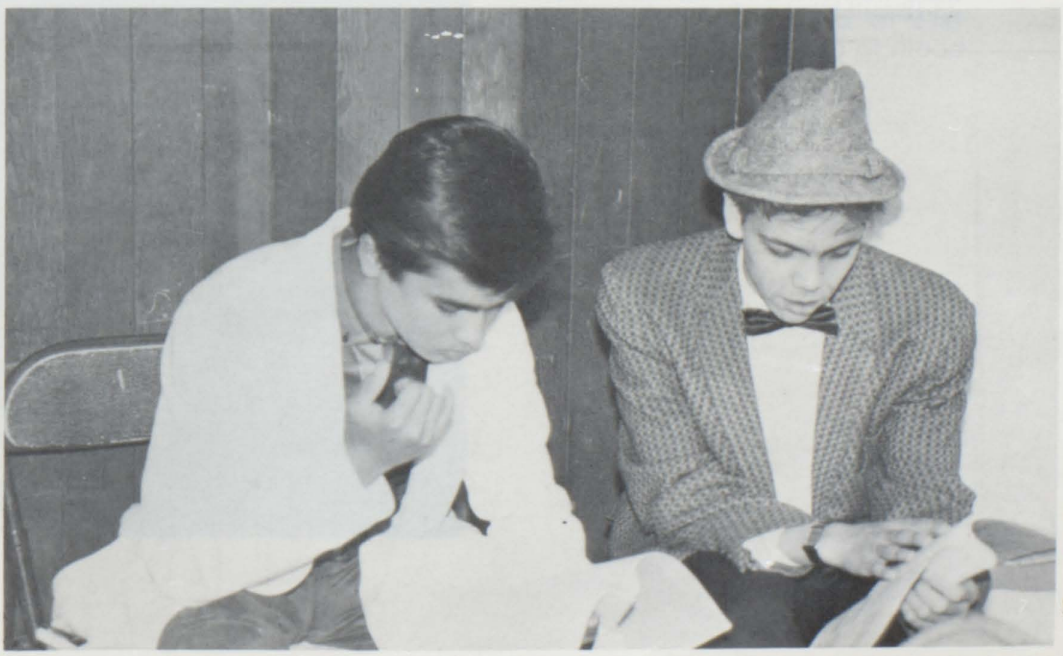
Drama Returns To WHS With...

HARVEY

1. THE HARVEY PLAYERS: Marcus Ayson, Michele Carpenter, Naomi Cohen, Dorothy Escobar, Ari Filardo, Sara Gaith, Hatla Hallstiensson, Trica Koopman, Christine Kralovansky, Christy Lazenby, Robert Love, Chris Nelson, Sheryl Sanchez, Peter Spellman, Christa Velasco, Stacie Zembick.
2. The musical assistants: Rick Winterstein, Paul Lorigan, Sam Zabor, Lavrant Gosset, Joanne Winterstien, Stephanie Brechtel, Sean McInnes, Barbara Babylon.
3. "You look lovely, my dear."
4. Taking a bow.

The production of Harvey was brought to Washington High School in 1985 and with it came a revival of the once prominent Washington drama troop. The first major production at W.H.S. since 1976, Harvey served as a needed boost to awaken the once dormant drama department. With the hard work of Richard Burkhart and the time and devotion of the Harvey cast the production proved to be an excellent interpretation of an established play.

1. Director Richard L. Burkhart sparked a renewed interest in major dramatic productions this year.
2. Runa D. Larsen, Assistant Director, assisted Mr. Burkhart with his monumental task.
3. Mr. Dwayne Mitchell, Music Director.
4. The directors take a bow.
5. Naomi says, "Yes give him the formula."
6. Eric Mueller gives orders using high tech head set.
7. Marcus and Robert learning their lines.

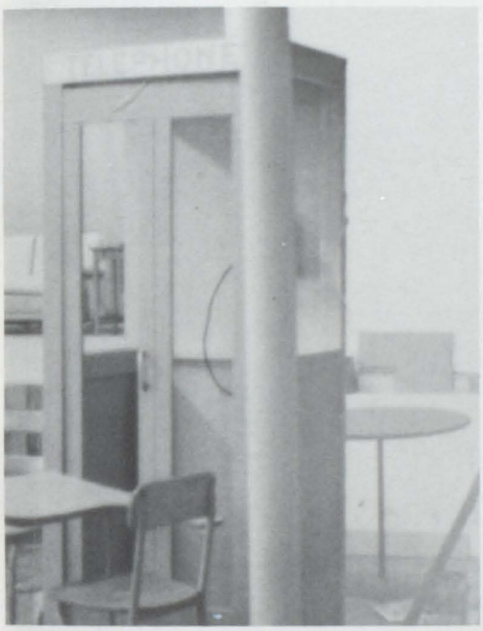


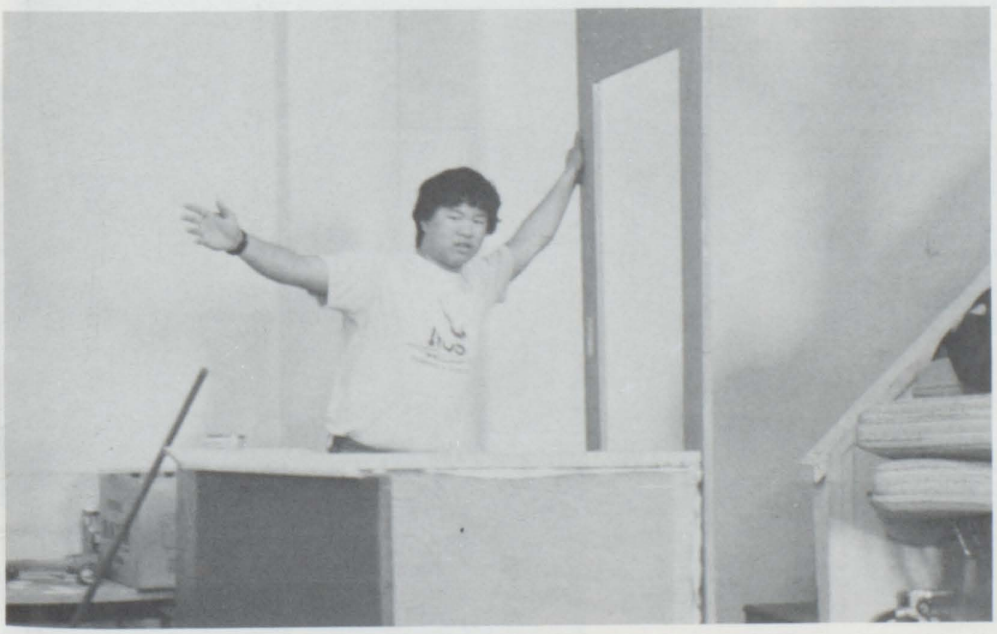
PRODUCTION CREW

The production crew has proved to be the back bone of the performances. It includes the make up misstress, costume mistress, public relations, and the very important tech crew. They build and design the sets, take care of the lighting and curtain and numerous other esstential details.

The set for the spring musical proved to be challanging for the staff. There were tree's to be sculpted, vines and tiki's to be painted, and a phone booth to be designed.

The Stagecraft staff met every sixth period as a class. A day didn't go by when one could walk by room 201 and not hear the noises of a set being produced.





The production crew took on a tremendous amount of responsibility. Without this group, our shows would not have gone on. A special thanks to the whole production crew!

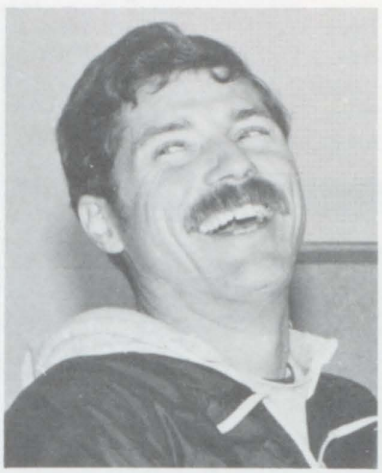
WASHINGTON

President: Joe Bischopfsberger

Treasurer: Nancy Rego and Secretary: Colleen Scott



Athletic Director: Gilbert Lemmon

The Washington High School Huskies Boosters is made up of parents who help our school's sports program by attending the games and having year-round fund raisers. The meetings are held the first Tuesday of each month (except during basketball season when the group meets on the first Monday of the month) at 7:30 P.M. in Room 81 at WHS.

Two students, representing the boys and girls athletics programs and the associated student body, also attend and participate. It is not necessary to have a student participating in our school sports program in order to join. During the past year, approximately $18,000 has been raised to purchase some of the necessities that help the Huskies athletic program be the best that it can be.

Booster Members watch a Husky Football game.

5TH QUARTER PARTIES

SKI CLUB

The alarm rings in what seems like the middle of the night, waking a slumbering student so he can make it to the school parking lot by 4:30 am. Why would anyone want to be at school that early on a Saturday? To the members of the ski club that's an easy question. Fresh powder, moguls, jumps, wind-burned faces, and chapped lips make it all worth while.

This year's ski club enjoyed day trips to Sierra Ski Ranch on January 11, and to Kirkwood on February 8. Great interest was shown in the winter months, causing spaces available for the trips to be filled up in only a few days. With early planning and organization, next year's ski club will hopefully share the same success.

TRAGOS COMOS

Aside from the tremendous revival he brought to Washington's drama department, Mr. Burkhart also organized the formation of the Tragos Comos club. Trago Comos, a Latin team meaning tragedy comedy, is a term of drama, which is what this club is all about. The organization of the club began towards the end of last year in order to spark students' interest and plan activities for the following year early. One of these activities was to see the performance of the musical "GIGI" at Cal State Hayward. After the show, students had the opportunity to speak with cast members and gain additional information in the field of dramatic arts. With continued and increased student interest, more such excursions will be enjoyed by the Tragos Comos Club.

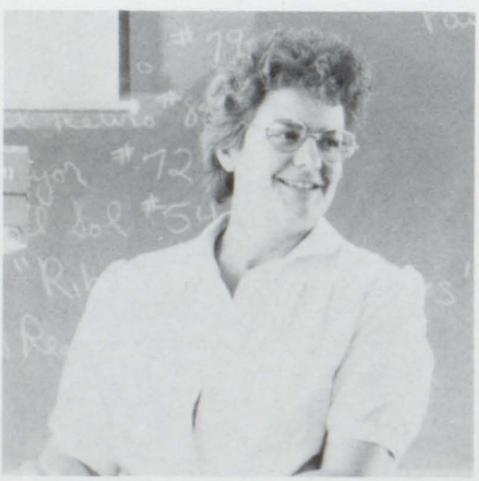
SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club began the organization of its rebirth near the middle of last year. Earlier, Washington had the three separate language clubs — French, German, and Spanish — but they were replaced by the International Club several years ago. With its rebirth, the Spanish Club hoped to have such activities as joining with other Spanish Clubs in the area, planning a trip to Spain or Mexico, and a banquet in San Francisco. Due to low membership, however, these were not possible.

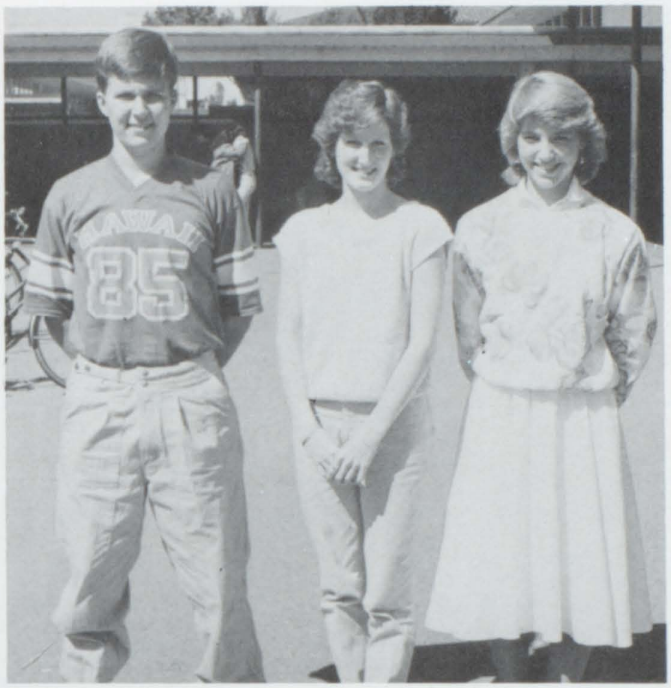
OFFICERS — Treasurer: Marcy Teano, Vice President: Eugenia Sandoval, Secretary: Diana Gutierrez, President: Paul Cheng



Advisor: Mrs. Mitchell

Marcy Teano, Kim Buen, Eugenia Sandoval, Mrs. Mitchell, Diana Gutierrez, Paul Cheng, (kneeling): Remie Ramierez, and Erika Sandoval

GERMAN CLUB



Similar to the Spanish Club, the German Club tried to revive itself after a two-year break. This year, when a number of students expressed interest in forming a German Club, Frau Larsen agreed to be the advisor once again. This year's club enjoyed a relaxing and fun-filled picnic at Lake Elizabeth and is in the process of planning more activities.

OFFICERS — President: Erik Elness, Vice President: Stacy Brunskill, Secretary/Treasurer: Stephanie Brechtel

Advisor: Mrs. Larson

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

The International Club, along with Tragos Comos, sponsored the Christmas dance this year and altered its title to the International Winter Ball. The club, whose purpose is to gain knowledge of a variety of nations, is planning additional activities, such as a field trip and an international banquet.

Advisor: Mrs. Linnell

MEMBERS — Remme Vargas, Lisa Dinh, Elena Garcia, Melina Calara, Karla Rios, Susan Wu, Sharon Wu, Huei Bei, Christina Lo, Mrs. Linnell, Annie Wong, Elsa Amboy, Audrey Vineys, Remie Ramierez, Robert LaFontaine, Shunny Choe, Joanne Winterstein, Bill Rohovit, Phyllis Mickelson, Georgette Morales, Lucy Mickelson

INTERACT CLUB

OFFICERS — (top) Elsa Amboy: Secretary, Audrey Vineys: President (bottom) TiKuo Chen: Treasurer, Dwayne Nelson: Vice President

The Interact Club is a junior Rotary Club, and its primary purpose is to contribute their time to community and world-wide service organizations. This year the club donated prizes for the winners of the school-wide canned food drive, and the club has plans to paint the railings of the North Gym and aid the community through various activities.

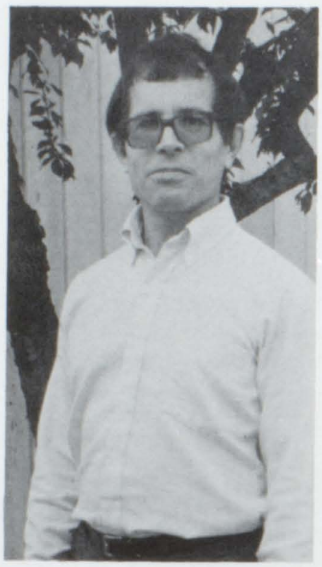
CSF

Advisor ... Mr. Zlatnik.



Though called the California Scholarship Federation, its members are not a bunch of bookworm bores. It's true, to join the club one must have a strong grade point average, but having fun and aiding the community are really the name of the game. The club started off the year with a pizza feed, but soon got back to business with the annual candy-cane sale and canned food drive, both of which were tremendously successful. The canned food drive topped last year's record with the number of cans collected for the hungry numbering in the 4,000s.

HATCHET STAFF

The Hatchet staff earned another big hand this year for the superb school newspaper they issued out. The Hatchet is published every other week on Fridays. It gives the students an insight on student council meetings, athletics, and has exciting feature articles. This group worked nights up to 12:30 am. when needed to put out the news. Good job Hatchet staff!

YEARBOOK STAFF

The Washingtonian staff showed their hard work and determination once more on making the 1986 yearbook. The effort of the editors with nudges here and there from the advisor, Mr. Brower, gave the group an incentive to make this year's yearbook special. The experience of putting a yearbook together included making layouts, using proportion wheels, writing out captions, and mainly working efficiently. Our special thanks go to Ash Studios for providing and developing our film, and to Jostens for printing the yearbook. Good job, yearbook staff!

This year 48 students were nominated for Husky Awards. They were chosen by faculty members and Student Council based on their contributions to their class and to school. Applicants submitted their qualifications to a committee composed of the Activities Director, Jr. Class President, counselor and an Assistant Principal. The Husky award is the highest award given to a senior at Washington High. Winners are presented a certificate on Senior Awards Night.

Each year, Bank of America acknowledges the academic achievements of the top Seniors. To be eligible for these awards, students must have at least at 3.0 GPA. This year, competition for these prestigious awards was keen as faculty members found it difficult to choose the best students out of the highly qualified fields. As a result, disagreements were anything but uncommon.

Certificate winners were awarded for their overall performance in one subject area over four years, such as mathematics, foreign languages, or English. Plaque winners, who became eligible to win between 500 and 2000 dollars in competition against other schools' honorees, were rewarded for their outstanding achievements in more general subject areas. Considering the other deserving students who were nominated, these people have every reason to be proud.

IMAGES '85 86

What will we remember from the year 1985-'86? Sumits in Geneva did not bring about a treaty but they didn't make things any worse. That is more than can be said for many of the years other events. In the Middle East and abroad, terrorists kept finding variations on their favorite themes, murder and mayhem. At the eastern rim of the Pacific, the great tectonic plates that make up the earth's crust gave tremendous shrugs that produced a catastrophic earthquake in Mexico and a volcanic eruption in Columbia killing thousands. 1985 was the worst year in history for air fatalities with the worst being the crash of Japanese flight JAL-123 killing a record 520. NASA mourned the death of seven astronaughts including a school teacher in the space shuttle tragedy and the violent murder of two Fremont girls let us know we're not just a sleepy little town anymore. Famine stalked millions in East Africa, and no cure has yet been found for AIDS the lethal disease that has caused mass hysteria. Many battle in South Africa for freedom from aparthied and Haiti and the Philippines win their battles to over throw their governments. The Live Aid concerts, with an audience of a billion plus help to feed Africa's starving and We are the World scored big in aiding the African relief fund. The Chicago Bears dominates the league and completes the season with only one loss beating the New England Patriots in the super bowl. The nation is overtaken with Hulkamania and prince Andrew finally marries. 1985-'86 leaves us with images of sorrow and happiness yet when we look back what will we remember? only time will tell.

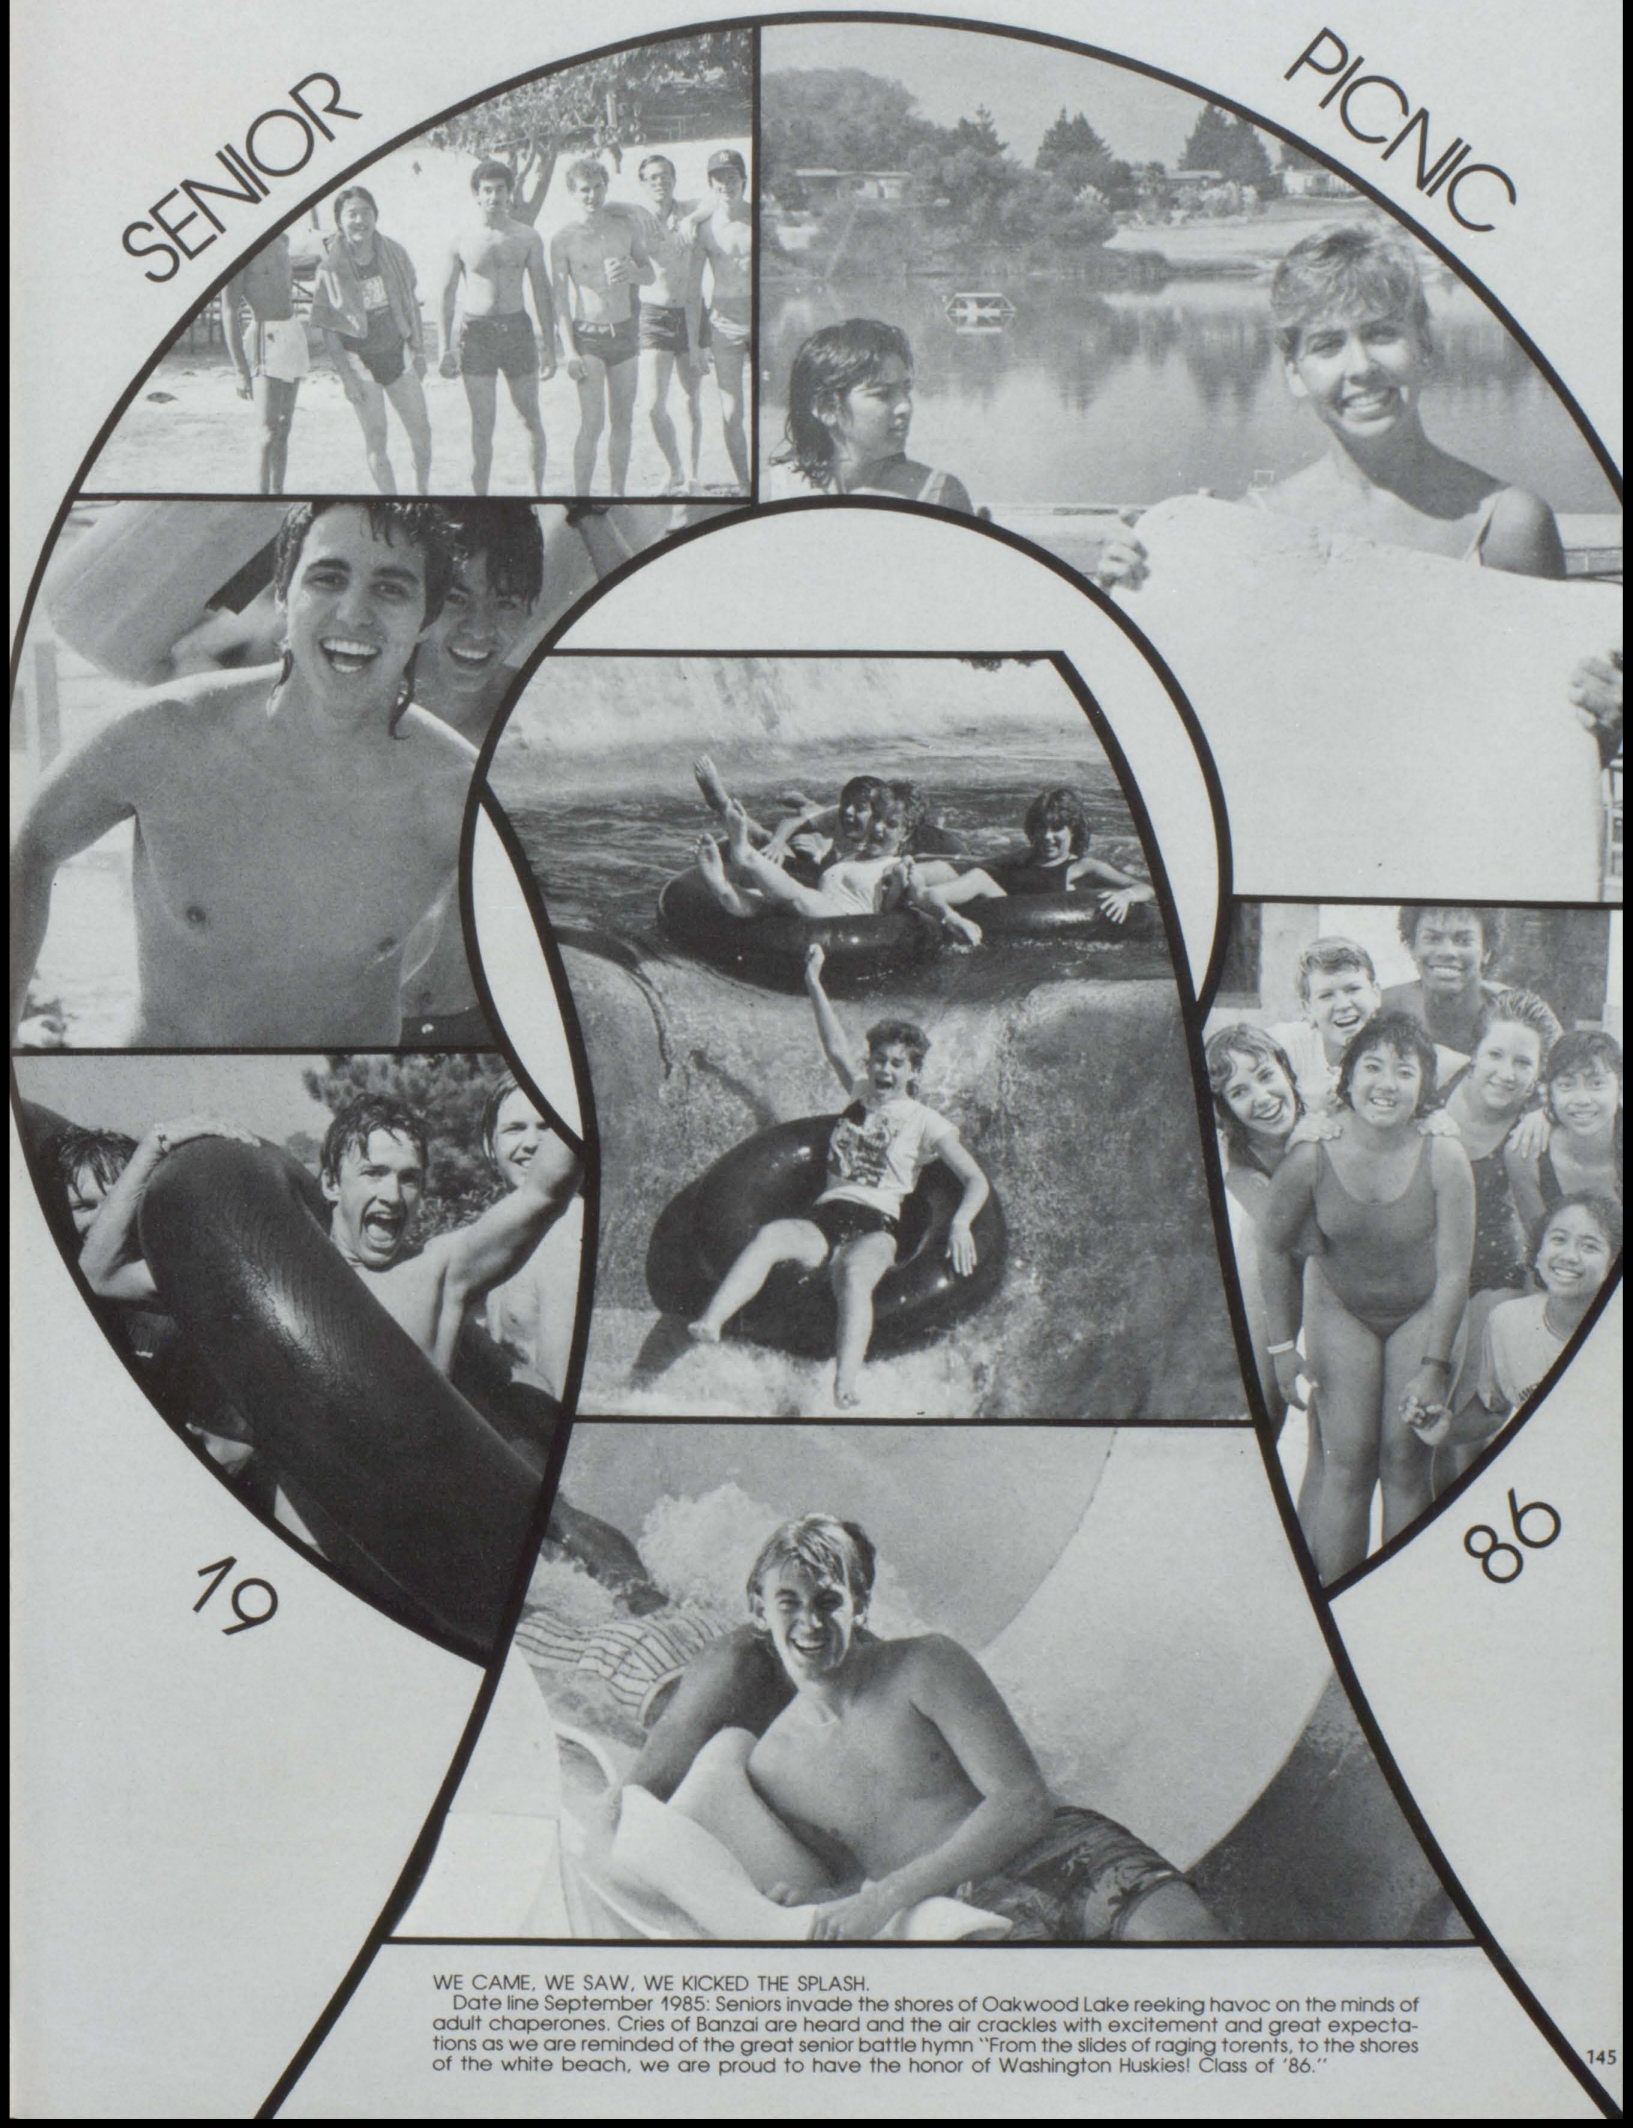
Here's looking at you.



WE CAME, WE SAW, WE KICKED THE SPLASH.

Date line September 1985: Seniors invade the shores of Oakwood Lake reeking havoc on the minds of adult chaperones. Cries of Banzai are heard and the air crackles with excitement and great expectations as we are reminded of the great senior battle hymn "From the slides of raging torents, to the shores of the white beach, we are proud to have the honor of Washington Huskies! Class of '86."

Whites try to muster up a defense.

Despite the pouring rain, the spectacular seniors smashed the young juniors 14-0 Saturday, February 15, 1986. This awesome show was refereed none other than 49er's Eric Wright. Touchdowns made by Tina Martin and Susy Sandlin helped to make this event of the 80's more than memorable. Erika Sandoval and Susy Sandlin both received Most Valuable Player for their outstanding efforts. J. D. Filardo led these seniors to their victory.

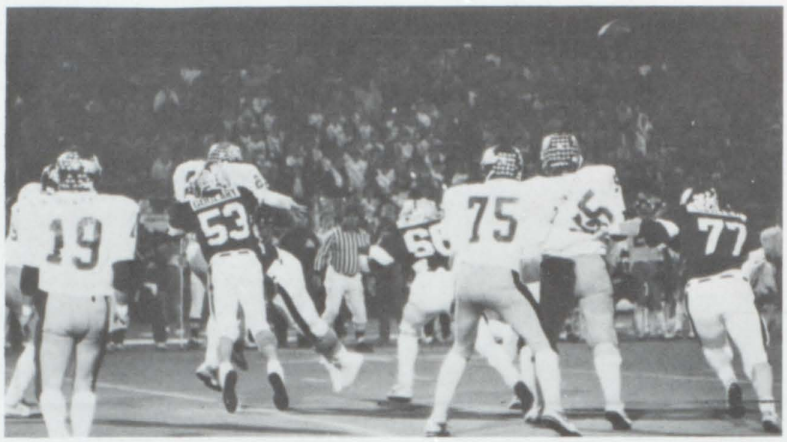
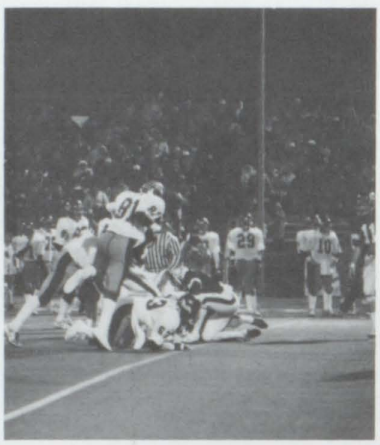
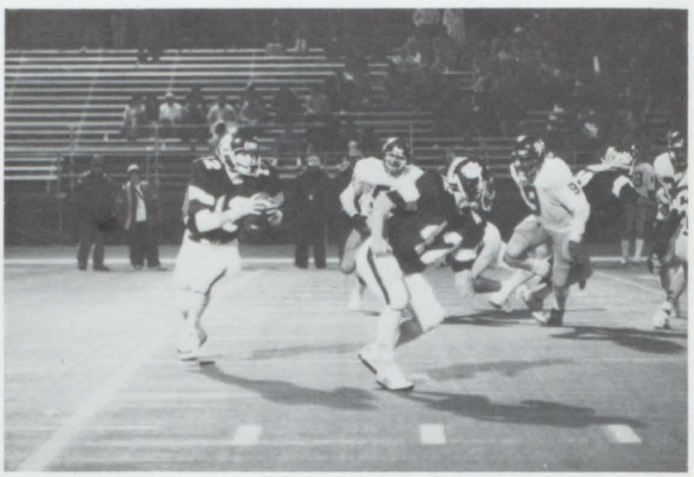
NORTH COAST SECTION

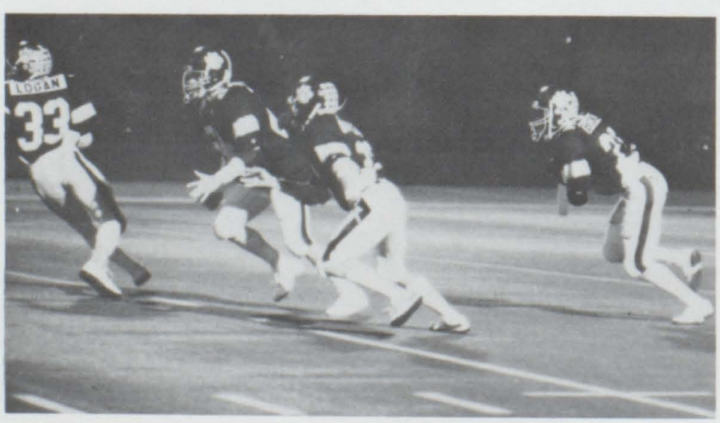
WHS Vs. Pittsburg

In the second round of the North Coast Sectionals the mighty Huskies took on the top notched team from Pittsburg. They battled it out against the Pirates on James Logan Stadium. The Huskies who did not play like they did against Monte Vista eventually lost to the Pirates 16-10, ending the Huskies hope for the championship.



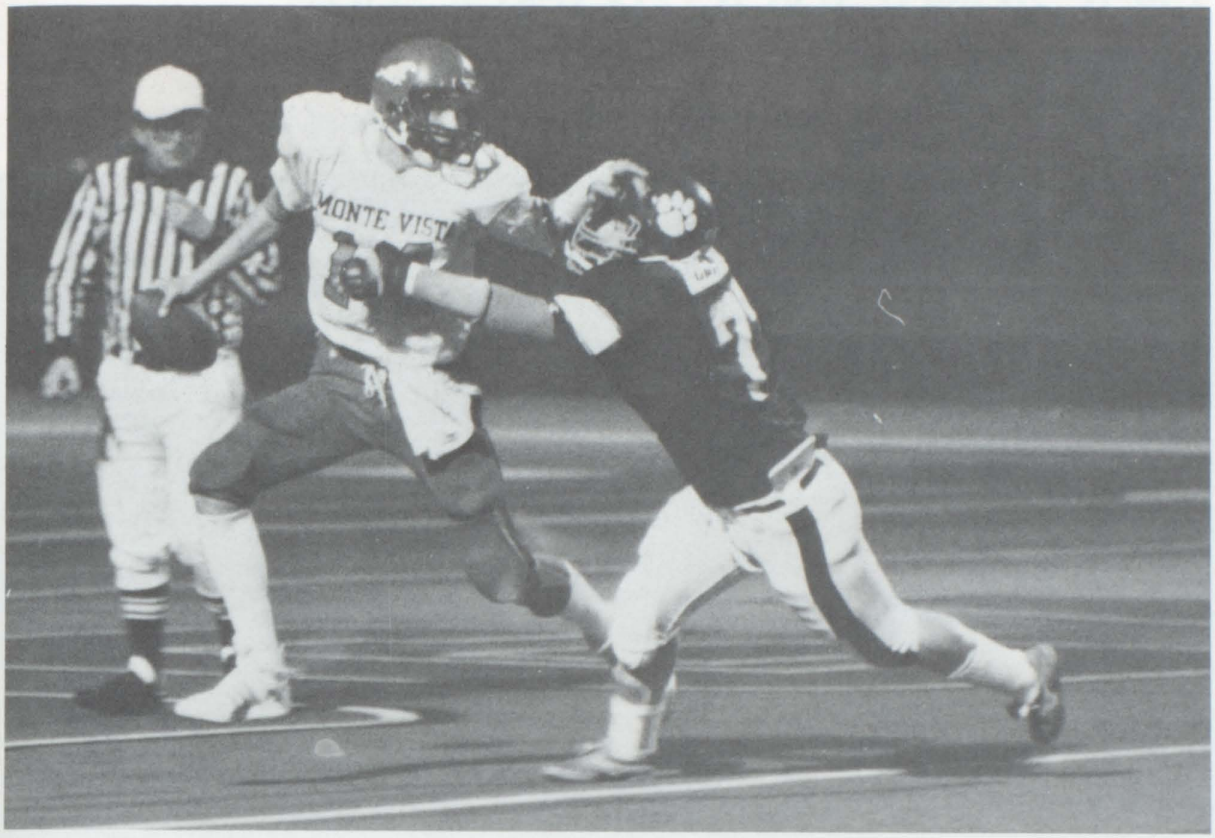






Though the Huskies' dream of playing in the coliseum was diminished, they tied three-ways for first place with American and Newark. The Huskies' also had a lot of players selected for ALL LEAGUE.

MONTE VISTA



For the second consecutive year, our football team won a berth at the NCS playoffs. This year, however, the results were different and the Huskies were victorious in their manhandling of Monte Vista of Danville. The team put on one of their best performances of the year. Though they lost in the second round to Pittsburgh, they provided us with plenty of excitement and they gave our school plenty of winning pride.

Though sometimes I felt, and even acted, like I was doing this book alone, I realize several people contributed a lot of time and effort to making it — time and effort which was greatly needed and much appreciated. With this page, I am given the opportunity to express my gratitude to these people. All those who did their pages without complaining, with flair and style, somewhat on time, and had maybe a little bit of fun while doing them, deserve a hand and a thank you from me; thank you. And to all those on the outside who had to put up with our mistakes — thanks for your patience. Special thanks from me go to those who had nothing to do with the yearbook class, but who took their time to help us out either finding names, writing copy, or just suggesting ideas. Little bits of input really add up. Before I go, I'd like to say that being the editor this year has been a very important job for me, one which I'm sure I'll never forget. I know, of course, that this book isn't perfect, but I hope that, despite whatever flaws it may have, it brings back many fond memories of your year at Washington.
